Storyboarding Framework: What are the interactions that you're designing?

When to use: Use this framework when your design consists of several human-to-human interactions linked together, or when you're building any type of system. Storyboards help you see gaps in your designs.

Name of your design:

Directions: Use each one of these squares to draw the touchpoints or action scenes of your interactions or system. Try to use any text beyond a one line caption to describe what is happening in the boxes.

1. Caption _____	2. Caption _____	3. Caption _____
4. Caption _____	5. Caption _____	6. Caption _____
7. Caption _____	8. Caption _____	9. Caption _____

Need more space to finish your storyboard? Print out more copies of this framework, or just draw rectangles on a blank page!